

Stadsbader on his way to Alaharma

Gilles Stadsbader will face the first FIA Karting World Championship this weekend in Alaharma, Finland.

For the Forza Racing driver, besides being the first CIK FIA world competition, it will also be the first international race at the Mika Salo Circuit and this will be a really exciting challenge for the Belgian.

After almost a year as a Senior, Stadsbader can be satisfied with his relationship with Jamie Croxford's team, but above all with his own improvements, timely each weekend.

Gilles Stadsbader, Forza Racing (Exprit/TM): «The World Championship will close the curtain on my first full CIK FIA season. So far it's been a good year with satisfying results such as the victory in the heat in the European Championships in Genk, or even the victory in the BNL Kick-Off. I will give my all to get a good result.»

The FIA Karting OK World Championship starts this Friday: a day dedicated to free and qualifying practices. Saturday and Sunday morning will be the time for the qualifying heats, followed by the Final in the afternoon.
