

The team ready for redemption in Sweden

Two weeks after Genk, Forza Racing is ready to return to compete in the FIA Karting European Championship at the 3rd round scheduled in Kristianstad.

The team will arrive in Sweden with the potential shown on Belgian soil where, with all 4 drivers competing, it achieved significant results by winning 4 heats and finishing on the podium in the OK Final with Dilano van T'Hoff before he suffered a spoiler penalty.

Here the drivers line up:

OK – Dilano van T'Hoff #120, Gilles Stadsbader #129.

OKJ – Arvid Lindblad #225, Jonathan Weywadt #262.

Jamie Croxford, Team Principal: «The podium conquered on the field in Belgium was a nice boost of confidence and the fact that it was then lost due to a penalty, such as for the spoiler, has everyone even more hungry for results. I am sure that all my team members will give more than 100% to get great results.»

The event will start on Thursday with the Free Practices, whereas on Friday will be the time for Qualifying Practices. The heats are scheduled on Saturday and Sunday morning, with the Final in the afternoon.

© photo: M.Perrucca