

Forza Racing ready for the European Championship's last act

After the double victory in the test race, Forza Racing is ready for the last act of the FIA Karting European Championship scheduled at Le Mans.

On the track near the 24 Hours of Le Mans temple, the team will try to give continuity to the excellent results of the last 3 races where it took home 3 victories and a 3rd place in OK and OKJ.

OKJ - Forza 4!

4 drivers will be defending Forza Racing's colors in France with Arvid Lindblad, winner of the Lonato round of the WSK Euro Series and the FFSA French Championship round of 2 weeks ago in Le Mans, plus Enzo Peugeot, Xizheng Huang and Rafael Camara on his debut with the team.

OK - 3: The perfect number

In Senior, instead, there will be 3 team drivers, namely Dilano van T'Hoff who, two weeks ago, despite having missed all the pre-event tests, amazed everyone by showing one of the most consistent paces of the lot; also running, Gilles Stadsbader and Matias Zagazeta, both called to make up for the unfortunate epilogue of the test race.

Jamie Croxford, Team Principal: «The results of the last races have been encouraging. We are in a good moment. In the Le Mans test race we collected a lot of data, which will be the basis of the work we'll do this weekend. All the guys are doing a fantastic job and we're looking forward to the event to officially start.»

As is usual in the FIA Karting races, the event will officially start on Friday with Free and Qualifying Practices, then the heats on Saturday and Sunday morning with the Finals on Sunday afternoon.
