N.39 – 26TH SEPTEMBER 2015

ALL READY FOR THE WORLD CHAMPIONSHIP IN LA CONCA.

Today was dedicated to the Qualifying Heats of the CIK-FIA Karting World Championship, which is being hosted by the World Circuit La Conca. KF Junior was the first category to complete its session of Heats, while KF will complete this phase only tomorrow morning. The drivers of both the categories admitted to the final racing day will get back on track tomorrow afternoon to race for the World Titles. This is the great show which is going to be staged at the facility in Muro Leccese (Italy); spectators have been swarming towards the circuit since the beginning of the weekend. Former F1 driver and now Formula E team manager Jarno Trulli was among them today: he wanted to follow closely all the races on schedule. The show continues tomorrow morning, with the spectacular parade of the 162 drivers participating in the competition: they will be welcomed by the authorities. The parade and all the races of the day, until the prize-giving ceremony, will be also available live in streaming on cikfia.tv and cikfiachampionship.com. From 05.40pm to 07.10 pm, Motors TV will air the delayed broadcast of the Finals.

BASZ E NIELSEN LEADS IN KF.

There were great expectations for thrilling duels on track, and these expectations were completely fulfilled. With still two Heats remaining to establish the name of the pole-sitter of the Prefinal, once again the favourites are the Danish Nicklas Nielsen (Tony Kart-Vortex-Vega) and the Polish Karol Basz (Kosmic-Vortex-Vega). They both won twice, while the reigning European Champion and the 2013 World Champion of the category – the British Ben Hanley (Croc-TM-Vega) and Tom Joyner (Zanardi-TM-Vega) – scored a victory each, as well as the Spanish Pedro Hiltbrand (CRG-Parilla-Vega) and the Dutch Martijn Van Leeuwen (CRG-TM-Vega). Tomorrow we will see whether the name of the new World Champion will come out from these top drivers or from the pack of underdogs immediately behind them.

SARGEANT AND FERNANDEZ THE POLE POSITION

IN KFJ. KFJ needed 15 heats to establish who, among the 99 participants, would be the pole-sitters of the two Prefinals. Eventually, the American Logan Sargeant and the Venezuelan Sebastian Fernandez (both on FA Kart-Vortex-LeCont) had the upper hand. They scored respectively 4 and 3 victories. In Prefinal 1 the second slot on the grid will be filled by the French Clement Novalak (Tony Kart-Vortex-LeCont), who won once, while the second row will be occupied by the Brazilian Caio Collet (Tony Kart-Vortex-LeCont) and the Finnish Konsta Lappalainen (Tony Kart-Vortex-LeCont), both with a victory each too. In Prefinal 2, second place for the Brazilian Felipe Drugovich (Kosmic-Vortex) who, thanks to a victory, finished ahead of the Belgian Ulysse De Pauw (Birel-Parilla) and the Italian Lorenzo Colombo (Tony Kart-Vortex). The other winners of today's races were the Danish Noah Watt (Fa-Vortex), the Belgian Kenny Roosens (Kosmic-Parilla) and the Russian Ivan Shvetsov (Tony Kart-Vortex).

KAROL BASZ (7 –KOSMIC-VORTEX, ABOVE), WON TWO HEATS IN KF TODAY, AS WELL AS NICKLAS NIELSEN. LOGAN SARGEANT (127 – FA KART-VORTEX, TOP) WAS THE BEST IN THE KFJ QUALIFYING HEATS.
