

The team ready to redeem itself in the 2nd round of the WSK Final Cup

Forza Racing heats up its engines ahead of the second act of the WSK Final Cup scheduled this weekend at 7 Laghi Kart in Castelletto di Branduzzo, Italy.

The team's main objective is to make up for their performance in Lonato where, despite the drivers showing great pace, were stopped in their tracks by a round of bad luck that prevented them from obtaining results in the Final.

The line up foresees Joe Turney in OK, while in OKJ the colors of Forza Racing will be defended by Dilano Van t'Hoff, Alex Dunne, Tikhon Kharitonov and Josh Dufek.

Jamie Croxford, Founder: «At the South Garda Karting all our drivers showed what they are made of; however, some unfortunate events have driven them away from the possibility of ending the weekend with a positive result. In Castelletto, therefore, the goal will be to fulfill our potential and bring home a good result.»

The event will start on Thursday, November 8th, with the Free Practice rounds, which will leave room for the Official Trials on Friday 9th. Also on Friday, but in the afternoon, the heats will start running on Saturday 10. Sunday 11th, finally, the final phase of the event with Pre-finals and Finals.
